

ASTMH Clinical Pre-Meeting Course:

Fever in the Tropics

October 18, 2023

9 a.m. – 5 p.m. (Central Time)

Hyatt Regency Chicago
Chicago, Illinois, USA

The purpose of organizing this meeting is to educate healthcare professionals about the clinical aspects of fever in the tropics and the etiologies prevalent in Central and South-East Asia, SubSaharan Africa and Central and South America. Participants will learn about the epidemiology of fevers in tropical areas, their diagnosis, management, prevention and control as well as the public health impact and the measures taken by public health authorities to prevent and control these diseases and their transmission.
